To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to recommend Jay Schwausch, whom I have known for over a year now, as a candidate for your company. Jay worked for me as Inside Sales Manager of the Automation Division of Lockwood.

Jay is a very experienced, adaptable and well-rounded person that would fit in very well at any valve or actuation company as well as most manufacturer rep firms. His expertise in valve automation and controls along with his superior computer skills makes him a truly valuable asset.

I have no doubt that Jay would be a valuable asset to your company and I give my highest recommendation. If I can provide any further assistance, do not hesitate to contact me at 832-331-7201 or wescoast@bellsouth.net.

Sincerely,

Wes King

REF: Letter or Recommendation

To whom it may concern:

The purpose of this letter is to introduce Jay Schwaush as a recommended employee for your organization. Jay worked for Automated Valve for several years whereas; he brought valuable Actuation knowledge and experience to our organization. He has a great work ethic and remains loyal to any project you may assign to him. For instance; Jay took the initiative to write a couple Gate and Globe Actuation sizing charts that are still used by the Company today. I know Jay would be as committed to your organization as he was to ours therefore; making him a valuable prospect for your employment.

Sincerely,

Bill Curtis

To Whom it may concern:

Due to current market and business conditions, the Bettis Division of Emerson Process Management experienced a personnel layoff. Unfortunately, Gerald (Jay) Schwausch was affected by this action.

Jay has worked for me as Training Coordinator for the past six years. He has exceptional skills and brings a very unusual combination of talents to the table. Very seldom do you find one employee that is highly capable of filling as many roles.

In his time with Bettis Jay handled inside sales, product training, presentation development, in addition to other business functions. His public speaking skills are excellent. His PC skills with expertise in Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, Excel, and Access are excellent. His ability to communicate and get along with his fellow workers is excellent. Without a doubt, Jay is one of the most talented and versatile employees with whom I have worked.

If I were given the opportunity, I would most definitely hire Jay again. Should you need further information about Jay, please do not hesitate to give me a call.

Sincerely,
